

Call for participants of the exchange program in Karlsruhe Institute of Technology, Germany

We have an exciting invitation for international exchange program from our partner university, Karlsruhe Institute of Technology \(KIT\) in Germany. NAIST and KIT has established the academic agreement since 2014 and have actively collaborated education and research with KIT. KIT was established in 1825 as a public research university and one of the largest research and educational institutions in Germany. KIT is also one of the leading universities for engineering and the natural sciences in Europe. It is located in Baden-Württemberg, Germany. The total student enrolment is 25,000 and the number of faculty and administrative staff is 9,300. Since KIT invites NAIST student to exchange program, we are now pleased to inform you to call for the participants.
