

April 2, 2020

To all students:

Policy for conducting subjects from April to prevent the spread of new coronavirus (COVID-19) infection

To prevent the spread of new coronavirus (COVID-19) infections, NAIST will conduct subjects from April based on the following policy.

- The scheduled starting of subjects from Wednesday, April 8 has been postponed. Subjects are scheduled to start using the Lecture Archive from Wednesday, April 22. Please do not enter lecture rooms where lectures are being recorded (Excluding the few students who are requested to cooperate by faculty). Details of subject registration etc. will be announced later by e-mail and on the NAIST website.
- Students may come to NAIST and their labs (new students are temporarily assigned) until subjects start. In addition, please avoid from closed spaces, crowds and closeness to people.
- The starting of and methods for subjects may change further depending on the situation, so please check the NAIST website and e-mail frequently.
- Lecture Archive: [NAIST HP]> [Digital Library]> [Searches]>[Lecture Archive]
https://library.naist.jp/library/archive_top/index-e.html
- To use the Lecture Archives, you must submit an “Agreement on use of digitized materials (Written Pledge)” to the library. If you have not submitted it yet, please check the following URL (<https://library.naist.jp/library/guide/application/index-e.html>) to download the pledge and submit it. If you are unable to bring the “Agreement on use of digitized materials (Written Pledge)” to the library, you can submit it in PDF format to the by E-mail. However, you will still need to send the completed paper form to the Information Service and Digital Library Section.
